

Re-Caring: One Body, Many Members

We talk about ourselves a lot – what’s something troubling or difficult that someone you know is going through?

What’s been your role in their struggle?

Is it always clear to see how to help in these situations, or not? Why?

What’s difficult about seeing someone else go through a challenging season of life?

How do we think about sharing burdens in society today; what is our obligation to others?

John 8:31-36

What has Jesus accomplished for us?

1 Corinthians 12:12-26

What’s our relationship to each other in faith?

What points are being made by this imagery?

Galatians 5:13-14

How are we to use what we’ve been given?
What’s challenging this passage for us?

Romans 6:15-23

What’s surprising about the language here?

Why does Paul use it?

If it’s appropriate to do so, tell the person you mentioned earlier that we prayed for them today, and see where the conversation goes. If you do, be ready for any kind of reaction, but emphasize your care for them.

Re-Caring: One Body, Many Members

We talk about ourselves a lot – what’s something troubling or difficult that someone you know is going through?

What’s been your role in their struggle?

Is it always clear to see how to help in these situations, or not? Why?

What’s difficult about seeing someone else go through a challenging season of life?

How do we think about sharing burdens in society today; what is our obligation to others?

John 8:31-36

What has Jesus accomplished for us?

1 Corinthians 12:12-26

What’s our relationship to each other in faith?

What points are being made by this imagery?

Galatians 5:13-14

How are we to use what we’ve been given?
What’s challenging this passage for us?

Romans 6:15-23

What’s surprising about the language here?

Why does Paul use it?

If it’s appropriate to do so, tell the person you mentioned earlier that we prayed for them today, and see where the conversation goes. If you do, be ready for any kind of reaction, but emphasize your care for them.